The first place to look for great secondary opportunities.

Things are really happening in Norfolk.

We've just completed re-organisation of our central area schools and the final phase of high school re-organisation takes place in the east of the county in September 2008.

Many of our forward-looking secondary schools are already planning for September 2008 and have identified exciting career opportunities suitable for NQTs.

So if you're keen to get your career off to a positive start in a local authority whose induction programme was praised by OfSTED, take the first step and visit www.secondarynorfolk.co.uk

With more opportunities than ever, in an area that offers a great lifestyle, Norfolk could be the best move you'll ever make..
